

RICHMOND
Morning Pointe
 Senior Care
 Residence

May 2012

1400 Gibson Bay Drive • Richmond, KY 40475 • (859) 626-5000

Richmond's Management Team

Cathy Curry

Regional Director

Balinda Mink, LPN

Resident Services Director

Juliana Wallhauser

Administrative Assistant

Amy Sparks

Life Enrichment Director

Chad Gordon

Food Service Director

David Garretts

Maintenance Director

Stephanie Allen

Housekeeper

Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority Hosts Spring Dance

This group of young women from the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority at Eastern Kentucky University hosted a Spring Dance for our residents. The ladies at Morning Pointe enjoyed an afternoon of pampering. They received makeovers and then got all dressed up in their best spring outfits for the special event.

Emily DeBrock, Jaimie Ware, Brittany Belcher, Abby Baldwin, Ashley Baker, Chelsie Roderick, Laura Ross, Morgan Meelley, Katherine Woods and Carrie Prepmeyer with residents Mildred Franklin, Mary Cress and Martha Reid

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority was founded on giving back to the community. The young women value the opportunity to offer assistance and spend time with the residents.

On this special evening everyone had a nice time with music, talking, laughing and refreshments.

Nadene Cornett enjoying smiles and fellowship

Our residents hope the special dance becomes an annual event with the EKV sorority.

find us on facebook!

Happy Birthday

May 6 Barbara Maupin
 May 12 Jo Sineath

Family Night/Rick Arnold

May 24 5-7 p.m.

New

Helen Murdoch, resident

The Chick-fil-A Cow visits Morning Pointe.

Pastor Rick McGee with Jo Sineath and Mildred Franklin

Easter Fun With Kids Kingdom Daycare

Kids Kingdom Daycare helped residents celebrate Easter! They decorated boiled eggs, had a blast hunting plastic Easter eggs at Morning Pointe and ate a lot of goodies.

Mrs. Brooke Thacker, with Kali Mcdaniels, Isaiah Sparks, Austin Renfro, Tobias Mcdaniels, Adam Colyer, Summer Neal, Angela Sparks, Christina Sparks, Raina Renfro, Allison Adams, Felisha Bertoto, Cayden Sowder

Frances Moore won a Easter basket and Nick Martin found the most eggs. These smiling faces brought laughter and hugs to the residents. The boys and girls ate cupcakes and cookies afterwards at our Easter party.

Mildred Franklin with her egg decorating partner.

Waving goodbye with their goody bags that the residents made for them, Mrs. Brooke said, "We will be back this summer."

Exceeding Expectations Winner: Mary Short

Here is what associates, families and others wrote in on their nomination forms about Mary.

Mary R. Short, Med Tech

"Mary is always willing to help out in all situations involving my mother's care. I appreciate her taking care of all my mother's needs," wrote a family member.

"Goes above and beyond for her residents. Brings them their favorite foods and treats and always throws a UK basketball party," adds one associate.

"I have asked Mary on many occasions to check on my mother, and in no time at all, it is done. She is really a caring, competent and genuinely nice person and caregiver," commented a family member.

Mary says she is honored by the award. "I am glad families have confidence in me to take care of their loved ones. I will always be dedicated to the care of the residents because this position is more than a job to me," adds Mary. "On behalf of the families and staff, I accept this award. Thank you for everyone's nominations, friendship and love."

Resident Spotlight

Mr. Douglas Haig Jenkins, MD

Mr. Jenkins, also known as Morning Pointe's Dr. J, is always ready to read his newspaper at the beginning of each day. Doug is from Madison County and has been a resident of Morning Pointe for two years.

He is married to his lovely wife Virginia and they share three children, of which two are living, Donna and Doug Jr. Mr. Jenkins is blessed with seven grandchildren.

Mr. Jenkins is a former U.S. Navy veteran and has wonderful memories of traveling to Asia, South America, Africa and several European countries. Some of the travel was due to his practice of medicine. He says it was interesting to travel all over the world. He always enjoyed the different ships he traveled on.

Doug has a cap that has "Unusual Travels" embroidered on it with a description of where he has been during his life.

While in college, he had an outstanding grade point average. He received awards for his high distinction. Doug began his practice in Louisville, KY, because that is where he went to medical school, then he went to Lexington. He made the decision to settle in Richmond because of his parents. He is a very well-known man with an excellent reputation as a doctor. Doug stated, "I was the most significant surgeon in the community because I could do several different types of surgeries and I did them well."

Dr. Douglas Jenkins celebrated his 94th birthday on March 24, at Morning Pointe. Dr. Jenkins has spent most of his life in Madison County (Richmond). He is a retired general surgeon. Pictured with Dr. Jenkins are his two living children (L to R) Donna Jenkins Poindexter, Dr. Jenkins and son Douglas H. Jenkins, Jr. Also, four of his seven grandchildren, back row, Shelby Poindexter, Dylan Poindexter, Julia Suzanne Jenkins and Drey Jenkins (Douglas H. Jenkins, III). The family shared a birthday cake with the other residents of Morning Pointe as well as staff members.

Dr. Jenkins said he has always liked to study, but also enjoyed dance lessons. He would go dancing with his wife. "I liked it," he smiled.

At Morning Pointe, his favorite snack is soft cookies. A very pleasant man with a good heart is what we all see.

Visitors

Ashley Cunnigan, Mary Kay Representative pictured with Mildred Franklin, Nadene Cornett, Lee McGinnis and Clay Littrell

MCHS Cheerleaders celebrating Family Night and NCAA with resident Mary Cress

The Sunshine Cloggers

Louise Locke, Zorba and Nick Martin

Madison Central High School Cheerleaders at Morning Pointe of Richmond

1400 Gibson Bay Drive, Richmond, KY 40475